Core Values

Passionate - Having passion allows for excitement when working. A goal of mine is to enjoy a profession that I can dedicate my time and skills to.

Determined - Having strong determination and hard work have assisted me in achieving my goals. I dedicate my time to do the best I can in all aspects of work.

Creative - Being creative helps solve problems and leads to innovation. I always use my creative skills to think outside the box and develop unique ideas when working on projects. Having a creative mind permits imagination and curiosity in my work.

Willing to learn - Learning new skills has provided me with growth as a professional and individual. When a difficult situation arises, there is always time to learn more and expand knowledge.

Respectful - No matter where I am working, I am respectful to everyone around me. There is a smile on my face, even when something goes wrong. I respect the opinion of others, even if I disagree.

Team member - An important aspect of work is communicating with others and always keeping a positive attitude. I have good communication skills when working with a team and will respect everyone working around me.
